II. Reading Comprehension

Page (5)

Read the following passage, then answer the questions below:

Madinat Al-Hareer ,otherwise known as Silk City , is an innovative solution to the problems facing Kuwait .This $130 billion project will result in the construction of a new city , combining residential , financial and commercial districts. Taking its name from the ancient silk routes that traversed Kuwait , the ultimate aim of the project is to establish Kuwait's status as a commercial hub of the world , whilst providing habitation and a desirable lifestyle for the proposed city's 700,00 residents. The city will also create around 450,000 new jobs.

The city , which is to be built in Subiya , north of Kuwait City , will be a unique city because its layout has been completely and meticulously planned from its inception .In this way , its growth will be less 'organic' than other cities, which often add housing and business as needed ,but will benefit from clear demarcation between residential , financial ,commercial , and leisure areas. The design is not simply about creating new living places, but creating an architectural space that induces contentment and well-being. The city is going to be built with its residents in mind and features large expanses of greenery along with all the normal amenities people in the modern world have become accustomed to. In fact, to guarantee the residents' happiness , the city is designed so that you will never be more than three blocks away from a garden or water .

The crown jewel of Madinat Al-Hareer will be the Burj Mubarak Al-Kabir .This tower which will stand at 1001 metres and 200n storeys high, will house the equivalent of seven 'vertical village' .This imposing construction will dominate the skyline , and is just one example of the ways in which modern engineering allows designers to overcome the constraints of limited land.

A) From a , b , c and d , choose the correct answers : (4 x 4.5 = 18 marks)

1. The best title for the passage is: _____

- a. Commercial Hub
- b. New living places
- c. Residential districts
- d. Silk City

2. The underlined word “this tower” refers to _____

- a. The crown jewel
- b. The Burj Mubarak Al-Kabir
- c. Madinat Al-Hareer
- d. Silk City

3. What is the best definition of 'organic' as used in the text?

- a. something related to ,or derived from , living matter .
- b. characterized by continuous and natural development .
- c.a description of food produced without the use of pesticides and unnatural fertilizers .
- d.

4. Which of these statements about Silk City is Not true ?

- a.Every aspect of Silk city has been designed and thought out carefully.
- b.The city will house 700,000 people .
- c.The only aim of the city is to establish Kuwait as a major commercial hub.
- d.Water and plant life are used to create a pleasant environment.

B) Answer the following questions: (3X4 = 12 MARKS)

5.Why is the city being built?

6. How will the population of Madinat Al-Hareer be kept happy ?

Read the passage and then answer the questions below :

Why is sleep important?

How much sleep do you need each night? Are you getting enough sleep? What is the importance of sleep ? The rest of this article will give some useful information and advice.

Exactly how much sleep we need depends on several factors , including our age , our daily routine , the quality of our sleep and our genetic make-up.

We know that most adults need about 8 hours'sleep a day, but this number can vary greatly : "short sleepers" may need only 5 hours , whereas " long sleepers" may need 9-10 hours. Babies need about 16 hours a day while many teenagers need an average of 9 hours.

How do we know if we are getting enough sleep ? In general , if you feel drowsy during the day , you need more sleep. You may think that you are sleeping for long enough , but these are some of the signs that you may need more :

- You cannot concentrate at school or work;
- You find it difficult to get up in the mornings;
- You are moody or irritable;
- You have memory problems.

So why is it important that we get enough sleep? According to the National Sleep Foundation (NSF) , sleep is essential for a persons' health and wellbeing. First, sleep helps the brain retain new information in one's memory. In studies , people who had slept after learning a task did better on tests later. Second, people who are deprived of sleep might gain weight because their bodies would process and store carbohydrates and alter levels of hormones that affect their appetite. Third, sleep loss contributes to a greater tendency to fall asleep during the daytime. These lapses may cause falls and mistakes such as medical errors , air traffic mishaps and road accidents. Finally, chronic sleep deprivation alters the immune system , including the activity of the body's killer cells.

How we sleep also affects us. When we fall asleep , our sleep can be deep and restful or light and shallow. Shallow sleepers awake still feeling tired , while deep sleepers wake up refreshed.

A)From a, b c and d choose the right answer :

1."this number " refers to _____

- a. 8 hours' sleep
- b.5 hours' sleep
- c.9 hours' sleep
- d.10 hours' sleep

2. The word " shallow" means _____

- a. Tired and almost asleep
- b. Not deep
- c. Peaceful and quiet
- d. Something that continues for a long time and can't not be easily solved

3.The main idea of 4th paragraph is _____

- a.Sleeping positions
- b.Different kinds of sleep
- c.The effect of the lack of sleep
- d.Questions to ask yourself

B)Answer the following questions :

4. The amount of sleep we need depends on several factors .Mention them

Bayt Lothan: an old house serving new purposes

Located in Salmiyah, several kilometres south of the centre of Kuwait City, Bayt Lothan, or the house of shelter, is one of Kuwait's best known traditional coffee houses. Every day, people gather there to drink coffee, eat food and socialise in the tranquil open garden.

However, Bayt Lothan is more than just a coffee house. It also has an impressive history. The word 'lothan' means shelter. It was the original name of the area in which the house stands, so called because it was a place where ships could take refuge from storms. Today, Bayt Lothan provides a shelter in which human creativity, arts and crafts may flourish. Once built, Bayt Lothan became a residence of Sheikh Sabah Al-Salem Al-Sabah, the twelfth Amir of Kuwait. Now, the building acts as a centre and a sanctuary for the arts, and stands as testament to the changing uses of a building over time.

Covering over 4000 square metres, Bayt Lothan also houses an impressive art gallery and a successful community centre, which specialises in teaching art in both traditional and modern forms. Much of the space within the site has been transformed into workshops for arts, crafts and design. The site also provides a platform for artists and craftsmen to exhibit and promote their designs and artistic works. Workshops and lessons are held in the centre, with subjects as diverse as jewellery design and clay pottery being taught. The new and old mix seamlessly in these sessions, as contemporary photography is taught in parallel with Arabic calligraphy and manuscript decoration.

The directorship of the Bayt Lothan project also reflects the history of the site and the changes that have occurred over time. The project is now directed and managed by Sheikh Sabah Al-Salem Al-Sabah's daughter, Sheikha Amal Sabah Al-Salem Al-Sabah.

There are also many events held at the centre, such as exhibitions of new Kuwaiti artists, and it's always great to go and see what's happening in Kuwait's burgeoning art scene. You can also take classes to learn new skills yourself. Who knows, one day you might end up with your own exhibition at Bayt Lothan!

Steve Fossett – a record-breaker

In 2002, Steve Fossett became the first person to travel solo round the world in a hot air balloon. His balloon, The Spirit of Freedom, used a mixture of helium and hot air and was 42 metres tall by 18 metres wide. To keep it at a constant altitude, the balloon used a sophisticated autopilot system controlled by a computer.

Fossett commenced his journey in Western Australia, travelled east to South America, over the Southern Atlantic Ocean towards South Africa, then over the Indian Ocean to reach Australia. This record-breaking solo journey took 14 days, 19 hours and 50 minutes. Fossett only slept for four hours in every twenty-four hour period and never slept for more than 45 minutes at one time. He frequently had to leave his tiny cabin for the sub-zero exterior in order to check that the balloon's burners were working properly. By the time he arrived in Australia, he had travelled 33,195.10 km and broken the world speed record for a manned balloon flight, achieving at one point a speed of 322.2 kmh. Steve Fossett was especially pleased with this successful round-the-world journey as it was his sixth attempt. His first attempt had been six years earlier, in 1996.

One previous attempt, in August 1998, had almost ended in disaster when Fossett's balloon was sucked into a thunderstorm off Australia's Northeast coast. The capsule plummeted 30,000 feet into the sea but also caught fire, igniting the balloon's propane burners. Fossett managed to escape through a submerged hatch and clambered aboard his life raft. He was rescued by a boat 10 hours later.

Steve Fossett held four other world records for non-stop journeys round the world as a sailor and as a solo air pilot. Before Steve Fossett's record attempts, no pilot held world records in more than one class of aircraft. Fossett held them in four. His other achievements include the Absolute Altitude Record for Gliders when he flew at 50,727 feet. For the attempt he and his co-pilot wore full pressure suits. Before his death, Fossett had succeeded in setting 116 records in five different sports. Fossett was declared legally dead on 14th February, 2008 just over five months after a plane he was flying crashed.

A) Read the article and choose the correct answer to the following questions.

a Steve Fossett was declared legally dead in ...

- 1 September, 2008.
- 2 February, 2008.
- 3 September, 2007.
- 4 November, 2007.

- 1 to cope with the psychological stress of the record attempt
- 2 to cope with the reduction in atmosphere
- 3 to show his sponsorship
- 4 to keep warm

c What is the main message of the text?

- 1 Steve Fossett escaped a downed balloon
- 2 Steve Fossett died in a plane crash
- 3 Steve Fossett set many impressive records
- 4 Steve Fossett was a rich man

The Morning Star

Venus is the brightest object in the sky with the exception of the Sun and the Moon. However, it is only perceivable from the Earth three hours before sunrise and three hours after sunset. For this reason people have given Venus the epithets 'the morning star' and 'the evening star'. It is the second planet from the Sun.

Because the surface of the planet is completely obscured by clouds, it is very difficult for scientists to study Venus from the Earth, so the vast majority of our information about this planet comes from spacecraft. The first flight to investigate Venus was by Mariner 2, which the Americans launched in 1962.

The most significant information comes from probes, which the spacecraft dispatches to scrutinise the surface of the planet. A probe is a small spacecraft that documents information and transmits it back to Earth. The Russians have also sent spacecraft and probes to Venus.

Some people contend that Venus is the Earth's sister planet because there are many similarities between the two. They are comparable in size and are approximately the same age. However, there is also much contrast between Venus and the Earth. Venus is devoid of oceans and has a very heavy atmosphere, 96.5% of which is composed of carbon dioxide. Because the atmosphere is so heavy, Venus has an extremely high surface temperature (459 °C). A Venusian day is equal to 243 Earth days. This is longer than its year, which is equivalent to 225 Earth days.

On June 8, 2004, Venus passed between the Sun and the Earth. People witnessed a large black spot moving across the Sun. The previous time this occurred was in 1882.

Read the article and choose the correct answer.

a The article The Morning Star is

- 1 scientific.
- 2 fiction.
- 3 non-fiction.

b It is difficult for scientists to study Venus because

- 1 it is too far away.

Kuwaiti inventors return from award ceremony in Geneva

Director of the Kuwait Foundation for the Advancement of Science (KFAS), Ali Al-Shamlan, applauded on Monday the achievement of the Kuwaiti inventors at Geneva's International Fair for Inventions. He said their winning the Oscar of the Fair was a historic and unprecedented achievement for Kuwait.

The Kuwaiti inventor, Ahmed Al-Hashash, received the Oscar of Geneva Invention Salon for his Airbag Equipped Attire for Motorcycle Riders. Al-Hashash, in addition, received the gold Medal of Honour.

A second Kuwaiti inventor, Sadeq Ahmed Al-Qassem, received a gold medal for his Light Indicator System (LIS), which alerts drivers as to exactly how close they are to other drivers ahead of them.

Deputy Chairman of the Science Club of Kuwait, Eyad Jassem Al-Kharafi, praised the achievement of Kuwaiti scientists in the Geneva Invention Salon and noted that this achievement was the result of encouraging young people in Kuwait to be creative. He noted that the recipient of the Oscar and gold medallist were sponsored since the age of 10 by the Kuwaiti Science Club, and acquired their skills through years of training there. Al-Kharafi thanked the Kuwait Foundation for the Advancement of Science for its support of Kuwaiti inventors participating in the Geneva Salon of Inventors.

In addition to the two inventions, Kuwait presented a third invention for Kuwaiti inventor Abdullah Al-Yateem, made up of an electrochemical reactor which could make use of sewage water to produce electrical energy.

The 33rd Geneva Invention Salon is a leading invention forum where 42 countries sent 1,000 inventors to display their inventions this year.
