VI-Reading Comprehension (20 marks)

-Read the following passage carefully, then answer the questions below:

Supermarkets are found in almost every city in the world. The choice of where you go to buy your food depends on how far away it is from where you live. In most cases, people have choices and there's a big competition between supermarkets. The customers can go to a supermarket almost anytime they want — many are open 24 hours. They can buy everything they need in one location. They choose whatever they want as goods are placed on open shelves. This means that less assistance is required than in other shops. The way goods are displayed is another difference between supermarkets and other types of shops. For example, in supermarkets, there is usually a display of small inexpensive items just in front of the check- out counter: chocolate, biscuits, chewing gums, batteries, magazines, cheap books and so on.

Most people who go to supermarkets use a shopping list because there is a lot of food to choose from. It's easy to get tempted or forget something you really need. Making a list saves time in the store. By the time customers reach the check - out counter, they feel pleased and relaxed because the task of shopping is finished. The best time to shop is very early in the morning, weekend evenings, or on a popular TV night. To help a customer choose what to buy, a product is placed on a shelf. A product that is placed at the eye level on a shelf sells much better than one which is placed on a lower or higher shelf. To give comfort and satisfaction to customers, many supermarkets provide parking areas and stay open until very late at night.
